Earl and Darielle Linehan

The Linehan Artist Scholars Program was created through the vision and generosity of Earl and Darielle Linehan. The Linehans' vision for the Artist Scholars Program emerged from their deeply held belief in the importance of the arts to society. They helped launch the program with a generous gift in September 1997. After supporting the program for almost two decades, in 2015, the Linehans endowed the program, ensuring its future ability to continue and grow. Their commitment to UMBC and our student community has created a transformative learning experience for hundreds of talented undergraduates majoring in the visual and performing arts with a strong record of academic achievement.

Longtime residents of greater Baltimore, the Linehans have a distinguished history of involvement with UMBC. Mr. Linehan chaired UMBC's Board of Visitors from 1993 to 2005 and was chair of the University's first capital campaign. He served on the Exceptional by Example Campaign Committee, which surpassed its goal upon completion in 2011. He is the President of Woodbrook Capital, Inc. and serves on numerous corporate, civic, and nonprofit boards.

In addition to her countless civic commitments, Darielle Linehan turned her lifelong love of books and learning into a vocation, founding the highly acclaimed Ivy Bookshop in North Baltimore. Earl and Darielle Linehan enjoy engaging with the students and learning about their passion for the arts. We sincerely appreciate their ongoing commitment to the Linehan Artist Scholars Program and UMBC.

"Artists are the leading edge of creativity in our society—they inspire our thinking and enrich our lives. But how can we encourage more young people to turn their talents into careers? Young artists seem to thrive best in an atmosphere that blends critical study with creative expressions — the kind of interdisciplinary environment that UMBC has always fostered."

—Earl L. Linehan, President, Woodbrook Capital, Inc.

PROGRAM Information

All Linehan scholars are expected to contribute actively to our community, which includes taking part in our program excursion activities and Linehan community events, as well as attending your peers’ performances and arts events.

Keep yourself abreast with the Linehan Calendar available on the Resources tab on the Linehan website; here, you will find important program information, dates, deadlines, and registration forms. Communication is very important. We expect all scholars to respond to emails from the Linehan TEAM and scholars staff in a timely manner.

Fall Welcome Gathering

On the second Friday of the fall semester, we host a Fall Welcome Gathering for all current scholars to welcome our new group of first-years, share the latest program news and scholar opportunities, and hear from scholars who were awarded the Summer Research & Study Award (SRSA). Food and beverages will be provided, and all scholars will receive an RSVP email at the beginning of the fall semester. We expect all scholars to attend.

Scholar Activity Form

At the beginning of each semester, you are required to fill out the online Scholar Activity Form located on the Resources tab on the Linehan website. The form asks you to list:

- performances, shows, and/or events you will be participating in for the current semester;
- any involvement in faculty research, internships, and/or working on your own research;
- summer activities, and other news specific to your career; and
- for seniors only: details about your plans for graduation and beyond.

The information is used by the Program Director to identify what the scholars are doing on a regular basis, and forms much of the primary content for the Autumn and Spring issues of our Linehan Artist Scholars & Alumni Newsletter Magazine.

The Scholar Activity Form will close on:

- Fall 2025 | September 15
- Spring 2026 | February 13

Fall & Spring Program Excursions

A central component of the LAS scholar experience is the fall trip to New York and the local spring trip to Baltimore or Washington, DC. The NYC excursion includes a visual art exhibition and a live performance (rotating between dance, music, and theatre each year. Seeing works of art, classics or new, opens all kinds of passages and possibilities to think beyond what one already knows. The program strongly believes in providing our scholars opportunities to immerse themselves in works by professional artists and find resonance in their own experiences and the relationship between history, philosophy, politics, and art.

Fall Excursion to NYC will always happen on either

- the last Saturday of September (9/27/2025) or
- the first Saturday of October (10/4/2025)

Spring Excursion

- Due to very low registration, we will instead offer local (Baltimore/DC) and limited availability short day trip. The format will vary, and the date will be published on Instagram and emailed.

Registration is available on the Resources tab of the Linehan website. Only scholars attending need to register.

Linehan Website “RESOURCES”

All scholars are expected to keep themselves up-to-date with program events, registrations, award applications, job calls, research assistant opportunities, and more, which are posted under the Resources tab. Scholars can access it using the password Linehan2025. The password changes “the year” (only) each January.

End-of-Year Linehan Program Celebration

At the end of the spring semester, we celebrate our senior artist scholars and recognize their incredible achievements and service to our program. We welcome incoming scholars as well as alumni of the program. The event is open to current scholars, alumni, and the families of our graduating and incoming scholars. Earl and Darielle Linehan, whose vision and generosity make your scholarship a possibility, strive to attend this event when it is possible.

Graduating Scholar Recognition | Student Honors and Awards Booklet - Provost Office

This recognition is central to highlighting our scholars’ accomplishments and raising our program’s profile on campus. The Program Director and the four arts departments determine the award nominations.

Outstanding Service to the Linehan Artist Scholars Program

This award is given to graduating scholars for their outstanding service to the LAS program, their department, and the UMBC community.

Outstanding Artistic Achievement

The award is given to graduating scholars in each of the four arts disciplines whose artistic work, including mentoring of young artists, has received high-level recognition outside of UMBC.

LAS Seminar 120H & 121H

First-year scholars are required to enroll in LAS120H and LAS121H. The seminars are held on Fridays from 1:00-3:45 PM during the fall and spring semesters. The program director facilitates the seminars and includes workshops by UMBC arts faculty and professional regional artists. Scholars will share ideas about art and what it means to be an artist and explore a broad range of creative approaches to investigate the different – yet interconnected – ways the arts enable critical thinking. It is a process that involves stepping outside one’s comfort zone and questioning one’s perceptions, which in turn create new realizations. The seminars foreground community and comprehensive learning experiences where individual voices are honored. The cornerstones are making and fabrication, critique, collaboration, research, and critical thinking. Through collaborative and self-led projects as the foundation of integrative and engaged learning, scholars are introduced to experiences and opportunities that support their involvement and investigation of their creative practice in the arts as research.

Seminar course requirements include attending events/performances outside the regular Friday meeting time. You must check the topical outline for each seminar at the beginning of the semester and communicate any conflicts to the Program Director.

Research and Creative Achievements

UMBC offers many opportunities for undergraduates in every major to gain significant experience with independent creative work, scholarship, and research. In addition to their creative research, Linehan scholars frequently participate in faculty research in the Dance, Music, Theatre, and Visual Arts departments.

Linehan scholars are strongly encouraged to advance their practice and artistic engagement through research projects, intensives, apprenticeships, and more. You can discuss research ideas and projects with the program director and your departmental advisor. Always plan ahead of time with regard to project proposal ideas.

Undergraduate Research Award

The Undergraduate Research Award \(URA\) is offered by the Undergraduate Research and Prestigious Scholarships Office and is open to all undergraduate students. If a student's project is selected, they may receive a stipend of up to $1,500 to fund a research proposal. Students must submit a detailed proposal and budget for their project under the guidance of a faculty mentor. Interdisciplinary work is encouraged. Students with interdisciplinary proposals are encouraged to have a mentor in each key discipline. All funded student research is presented at UMBC on Undergraduate Research and Creative Achievement Day each April.

URA Proposal Timeline

January:	Identify a mentor from your art major department.
February:	Start proposal / discuss research with your mentor / make revisions.
May:	Application due early May.
Summer:	Start your research.

Summer Research & Study Award

The Linehan Artist Scholars Summer Research and Study Award (SRSA) supports summer research through study at an established summer workshop, conference, internship program, or through a self-designed program of study with nationally/internationally recognized professional teachers. Funding may be used to cover tuition, travel, room, and board up to a maximum of $4,000. The SRSA is a competitive award, with one awarded in each of the four arts departments: Dance, Music, Theatre, and Visual Arts.

Eligible Linehan Scholars: sophomores and juniors who have demonstrated excellence in their majors. Applicants must have a GPA of a minimum of 3.250.

The application requires that you submit a Plan A and Plan B. Before starting the application, you must have discussed and sought advice for both your research/study plans with a faculty member/advisor from your department.

The application requires confirmation of parents/guardian's permission if your proposal involves domestic or international travel.

Application: Opens on the first day of classes in the Spring Semester and closes on April 1st. Carefully read and follow the application guidelines. Awardees are required to:

- Participate in the research described in their proposal and communicate project activity via email with the Linehan Director during the summer.
- Document (photo, video, journey, etc.) their research throughout its duration.
- Meet with the Linehan Director upon completing their project (in September) to discuss their research experiences.
- Submit a written summary of their SRSA project experiences for the Linehan Newsletter (due Oct. 1st).
- Attend the Linehan SRSA Forum held during Free Hour (12-12:50 PM) on the third Friday in November.

Study Abroad

Linehan Artist Scholars may utilize their scholarship for credit-worthy courses earned abroad. Scholarship funds can only be used for studying abroad during the fall or spring semesters. Studying abroad is one of the best ways to acquire global and intercultural skills.

To learn more, visit the UMBC Education Abroad Office. Scholars interested in studying abroad for an entire semester must discuss this with their departmental arts advisor, and obtain approval to be shared with the program director. Scholars may complete the Scholarships Study Abroad Approval Form to receive authorization to use any merit scholarships abroad and submit it electronically to scholarships@umbc.edu.

STRiVE Leadership for Public Purpose Program is an intensive and engaging leadership for public purpose program that helps inspire and support students in becoming more effective leaders and contributors to their communities, especially the UMBC community. Past STRiVE participants have gotten deeply involved in campus organizations and initiatives and have made phenomenal contributions.

- STRiVE participants develop friendships
- discover their strengths and values
- learn how to work more effectively in groups
- envision contributions they could make at UMBC
- engage issues relating to identity, privilege, and systemic oppression
- and tackle both simulated and real leadership and social change challenges.

The Linehan Artist Scholars Program nominates four scholars who have shown dedication and interest in leadership and public service. If their applications are selected, the Linehan Program sponsors their program fees.

Scholars interested in being considered for nomination can schedule a meeting with the Program Director between September 1st and October 1, 2025.

Note: Participants can't take winter courses as STRiVE's daily activities are scheduled from 8:30 a.m. – 10 p.m.

Unauthorized withdrawal below the full-time requirement or from UMBC may result in the cancellation of this award.
4. Art Major requirements:
 - Scholars must enroll and complete coursework required to stay on track for their arts major each fall and spring semester.

7. Scholars on probation have the following semester to work actively with their departmental adviser and additional university resources to devise a plan of action to restore themselves academically.

8. Scholars who fail to meet scholarship standards following their probation period can submit an appeal.

10. If the appeal request is approved, the Scholar is placed on probation for one additional semester and should follow the process outlined in point 6 above. Scholars failing to meet scholarship standards following an appeal/probation will have their scholarship discontinued.
11. Discontinued awards may not be reinstated regardless of whether the Scholar is able to meet the terms of their scholarship in a future semester.

Scholarship Deferral Requests

There can be many reasons for a scholar to seek a semester off, including medical conditions, family circumstances, or others. A scholarship deferral allows the student a one-time, single semester of non-enrollment from UMBC while maintaining their scholarship eligibility upon their return. Scholars not planning to enroll during the fall or spring semesters may request a scholarship deferral before the intended semester begins. A scholar seeking a deferral must first discuss this with their department chair; a formal statement and supporting documents must be submitted via the Scholarship Office's deferral webpage: <https://scholarships.umbc.edu/deferral/>.

Deadline for FALL deferral request: August 9, 2025

Deadline for the SPRING deferral request: January 9, 2026

Be sure to communicate with the faculty PI that you may complete a maximum of 40 hours for the research project as part of your service hours and notify the Program Director of your participation.

Service Expectations

- Scholars are expected to commit to serving their department and the program each semester in some capacity.
- Scholars can serve either their department or the program, depending on their department's needs and the scholar's schedule.
- Scholars on the payroll for the program or their department can't count their work as service.

Advising

All advising is facilitated by the department where the scholar is pursuing a major. You are responsible for being proactive in knowing what classes they need to take and when those classes are offered. Consult the departmental handbook when planning the journey toward completing the degree. A departmental advisor can assist you in planning semester schedules and determining graduation requirements. Successful completion of all coursework is ultimately YOUR responsibility. Changes in your academic journey, such as a change of major, deferral, or academic probation, are also your responsibility. Prepare for advising meetings by checking Degree Audit through myUMBC, and the online Class Schedule. Many courses are not offered every semester – you must consider “fall only” or “spring only” coursework in your plans and work with your advisor to ensure that you are on track to complete the degree. Scholars are welcome to schedule an advising meeting with the Program Director in addition to their departmental advising. These conversations look at your goals and ways to best reach them through strategic course schedule management.

Engagement

From getting involved in program events, providing service to one's department, attending peer performances and exhibits, volunteering as a peer mentor, and collaborating across disciplines – our scholars create their Scholar Experiences. As a program, we offer activities where scholars can socialize, meet new and familiar faces, and engage in learning opportunities that complement their academic and creative experiences.

Community EVENTS

With help from volunteering scholars, the Linehan Program hosts community social events each semester. These are fantastic opportunities for us all to come together across cohorts. We strongly encourage you to engage and take part in shaping our community.

Linehan Gallery & Artist Talk Café

Scholars across all four disciplines are invited to submit work to be featured publicly in a curated Linehan Gallery exhibition. Submission is ongoing, but a call will be emailed to all scholars at the beginning of each semester. The Linehan Gallery is located on the second floor of the PAHB corridor.

All current Linehan students are HIGHLY encouraged to submit to the Linehan Gallery.

Works that can be submitted:

- 2D works (e. g. paintings, drawings, etc.)
- Photography
- Videography
- Animation
- Photos/Videos of Performances
- Photographs of 3D works
- Process Videos
- Audio Files

 Please submit a high-quality photo or scan of your work that is a faithful reproduction of the original. We only display printed copies of your works due to concerns over the safety of the artwork exhibited in a public area.

Opportunities provided by the Gallery:

- You can include the exhibition of your work on your resume.
- You will have the opportunity to participate in an artist talk regarding your work, which you can also include on your resume.
- You will learn how to talk about your work and display your art in a professional setting.

The Linehan Gallery Curator will facilitate Artist Talk Café sessions with scholars whose work is displayed. The study lounge will be “converted” into a cozy café, and it is an opportunity to hang out with scholars across cohorts and disciplines and other UMBC community members interested in art.

Linehan Artist Scholars & Alumni Newsletter Magazine

Our newsletter celebrates the work of our scholars and alumni, highlighting the significance of art and creative expression on our campus and beyond. Sharing the work of our artist scholars and alumni – promoting artistic fulfillment, self-awareness, and being open to new ideas and experiences – informs us of ways in which art gives meaning to life and helps us understand our world.

The autumn and spring issues focus on current scholars’ activities, and the winter and summer feature Linehan alumni.

Autumn Issue	Late October	Current scholars focused
Winter Issue	Late January	Alumni focused
Spring Issue	Late March	Current scholars focused
Summer Issue	Late May	Program focused

GRIT guides

The Grit Guides are the lifeblood of the Office of Undergraduate Admissions, and the work that they do is crucial to UMBC. Scholars are encouraged to become GRIT guides, a job that involves sharing information about our institution with prospective students and families, showing visitors our campus, and assisting students with the application process. It is an on-campus job, and it requires that you are interested in joining a team of students who support each other, encourage each other, and learn new skills together. If you have questions about the application or want to chat about what it means to be a Grit Guide, please contact Gina Ralston at gralston@umbc.edu or admissions@umbc.edu.

Linehan Scholar Study Lounge

Linehan and Humanities scholars have 24/7 access to the study lounge in the PAHB, room 212. Four desktop Mac computers and a black and white printer are available and should only be used for education/career-related purposes.

The following rules apply:

- This is a shared space; please be mindful not to disturb others.
- Clean up the room before you leave.
- The LAS program is not responsible for the loss of personal items.
- Scholars are not allowed to swipe in other non-scholars/groups to use the study lounge.

Food and drink (in covered containers) are permitted in the study lounge, except at or near computers and equipment. We request that you dispose of trash and recyclables in appropriate containers and immediately clean up accidents or spills. Notify Kate Chasse if professional cleaning is required.

Alcoholic beverages are prohibited at all times. Smoking throughout the campus is not permitted by UMBC campus-wide policy. Violation of these will result in probation or discontinuation of the scholarship.

For issues with swipe access to the scholars' lounge, contact Kate Chasse.

Alumni Mentoring Program

The goal of the Linehan Alumni Mentor Program is to connect current scholars with Linehan alumni who are interested in sharing their expertise with a new generation of young artists and innovators. The Linehan Program Leadership team pairs alumni mentors with mentees based on their knowledge of the scholar and their submitted Mentor Request Form. The mentor program is offered to all third-year scholars, and the commitment runs one academic semester. After the mentorship semester has concluded, scholars and alumni will have the opportunity to continue the mentoring relationship informally through Retriever's Connect. Alumni mentors are vetted based on their degree area(s), professional experiences, and supporting expertise (e.g., grant writing, communication, non-profit, graduate career, etc.).

The Mentor program is facilitated through UMBC's Retrievers Connect platform, which verifies all users. All aspects of the mentoring process (email, message, or video chat) will occur through Retrievers Connect. It is up to the mentor and mentee to determine what areas of assistance to focus on and to develop a mentorship plan.

Meeting obligations include:

- A 1-hour introductory virtual meeting in which the mentor and mentee will introduce themselves and collaborate on a plan of action to be followed for the semester.
- Two 45-minute virtual progress check-in meetings, scheduled by the mentor and mentee at the introductory meeting.

The mentor and mentee can decide to engage in additional communication/sharing. At the end, the mentor will submit a final mentor report for archival purposes and to improve the overall program.

Mentee guidelines:

- Complete the Mentor Request Form
- Attend virtual meetings
- Come prepared to mentor meetings; that includes bringing materials/questions
- Timely communication

All scholars can engage with alums through the Linehan Artist Scholars Program Community private group in Retrievers Connect, allowing opportunities for collaboration outside of the formal mentorship program.

Alumni Network

The vibrant Linehan Alumni community reaches back almost thirty years, doing fantastic work right here in Baltimore, nationally, and around the world. Our Assistant Director of Engagement leads our alumni community, offering alums the support to stay connected and continue the Linehan vision of being leaders and makers empowered to create in various contexts.

Alumni initiatives include in-person and virtual networking and mentorship opportunities, online community/resource forum, reunions, and more. Each spring, we host a Linehan End of Year event, where current and newly selected scholars, together with alums, get together to celebrate Earl and Darielle Linehan and the program.

We ask that our graduating scholars complete and periodically update the UMBC Office of Alumni Engagement Update Contact Information form upon graduation. All senior Linehan scholars will receive an invitation to join our LAS Alumni Facebook group and LinkedIn Group.

Alumni Career Forum

The Alumni Career Forum is facilitated through our Linehan Alumni LinkedIn Group and through Alumni Connect Events. The purpose of this forum is to develop a space where Linehan alums can connect with each other to collaborate, network, and enhance their career opportunities within their respective fields and across disciplines. We encourage alums to share their work and amplify the work of other alumni.

Alumni Connect Events

Alumni Connect Events are organized by the Assistant Director of Engagement in order to facilitate comradery, connection, and community for Linehan alums. We communicate with our UMBC-region alumni on a frequent basis to inform them of opportunities to join activities locally and on campus. Through an ongoing effort to encourage our alums to update their profile in UMBC's Contact Info database, we are identifying geographical regions where Linehan alumni reside in order to gauge interest and plan gatherings across the U.S. We also collaborate with UMBC's Alumni Association to host affinity gatherings within their events, such as UMBC's Homecoming, UMBC night at Oriole Park, and Alumni Night at the BSO.
